On the Road Volunteering Gives Recipients and Volunteers a Lift

When Ted gives Grace a ride to the grocery store, he's also giving her the gift of independence. Grace manages living well on her own, but she can't do it without getting to the store once a month to stock up on groceries. On a recent morning, she was one of five passengers Ted picked up in the ICS Care-A-Van.

His carpool includes a senior couple who moved to Tucson a few months ago and do not have a car, a woman who suffered head trauma in a car accident and doesn't drive, and a man who is a caregiver for his wife who suffers from dementia. With all due respect to the average soccer mom, she's got nothing on Ted and the way he juggles getting five people back and forth to different stores for the things they need—always with a smile and a bit of conversation.

Ted has been a volunteer all his life. He's served in the Peace Corps, helped at a hospital, and now he's part of a group of essential ICS volunteers who drive seniors and disabled adults to places like the grocery store or the doctor's office. In one morning, Ted will log about 30 miles in the ICS Care-A-Van, donate about three hours of his time and receive a huge heap of thanks from passengers grateful for the help. As Ted says, "You couldn't do anything else where you're more appreciated."

Do you have time to give as a volunteer driver for ICS? You can drive your own car and respond to the great need for help. Check out the Volunteer tab on our website at www.icstucson.org or call Volunteer Resources Manager Tori Carlson at 297-6049 ext. 217.

A Word from the CEO

Dear Friends of ICS:

As Interfaith Community Services (ICS) looks with hope to 2016 after completing our 30th year of service, we celebrate how ICS grew from a trailer at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church with six congregations pooling their resources to the thriving organization it is today. Just consider how much ICS has flourished in 2015.

- We were recognized for the 6th year with a 4-star rating from Charity Navigator
- We served more than 1,100 seniors and disabled adults through our caregiving programs
- The ICS Food Bank provided emergency food to 28,000 people
- Our Emergency Financial Assistance helped over 4,000 households in crisis

On the strong foundations laid by Barbara Anderson, June Head and Bonnie Kampa, we lean forward with hope to bring help to our neighbors in need. We are grateful for these leaders and their selfless service and it is our mission to carry on the vision of love, cooperation and service they established.

In 2016, ICS is focused on better demonstrating the results of our programs—how emergency assistance, caregiving and health education leads to hope, self-sufficiency and greater health and independence for those we serve. Thanks for standing with us in this vital outreach!

Serving with you,

K. Daniel Stoltzfus

Our Mission...

“Helping seniors,
disabled individuals

and families in financial crisis achieve stable, healthy and independent lives.”

In Memoriam

June Head
ICS Executive Director
1987-2001

We are grateful for the spirit and energy June Head poured into her work at ICS. Her time as Executive Director began in 1987 when ICS was in its infancy, having just been founded two years earlier. She started as a part-time bookkeeper who also answered phones. She led ICS through more than a decade of growth as she increased grant funding and the number of volunteers and faith community partners.

We are thankful for the heart and mind of such a leader and know her work built a foundation that stands today. June Head passed away in mid-December. Plans are underway for a memorial service in January. We will post details of the service at www.icstucson.org as they become available.

ICS Food Bank Expanding Hours in 2016; Record Turnout for Holiday Food Bags

Due to desire to serve the working poor in our community, as of January 5th, 2016, the ICS Food Bank is open for evening hours one day a week on Tuesdays from 5-7pm. We are looking for volunteers to help with these new hours. Please call our Volunteer Resources Manager Tori Carlson at 297-6049 ext. 217 to help.

Last fiscal year, 28,000 people came to the ICS Food Bank. In November, a record 2,863 families lined up to get a holiday food box containing a frozen chicken or turkey and basic pantry items like boxed macaroni and cheese, a cake mix, and canned vegetables. Some people waited almost two hours for the food box.

Parents brought young children and babies in car seats. A woman in a wheelchair drove her 91-year-old friend and they waited in line together. Another woman, unable to stand for any length of time, waited in the car and asked a friend to go through the line for her. ICS volunteers worked long hours to fill the extra bags and staff the ICS Food Bank.

Volunteers put in extra time to sort, collect and assemble the bags during the 9-day holiday giveaway.

On some days that averaged out to volunteers serving one person a minute going through the ICS Food Bank.

This mother of two was grateful for the help to get the fixings for a holiday meal along with emergency food bags for her family.

86¢ of every $1 donated to ICS goes directly to provide services.

Pipeline of Help and Hope

Your support for ICS in 2015 means you helped 37,000 people find assistance last year. You could say they entered a pipeline of help and hope when they made that first call to ICS. But with a growing need, we know that pipeline needs to expand. We serve as many people as we can, but we have to turn away 80% of the people calling for emergency financial assistance to meet urgent needs, such as rent to prevent homelessness or help to keep the utilities connected.

Recently, we also received word that a government grant that provided major funding for our Job Resource Centers was no longer available—a threat to this important program that empowers independence by assisting struggling individuals in obtaining employment. With this in mind, we entered the 2015 holiday season with a big goal: raise an additional $150,000 to increase the pipeline of emergency financial help, provide support for our Job Resource Centers to continue this vital work, and replace an outdated database system with a new one that will improve the way volunteers and staff connect with clients, while better tracking and reporting results for those that fund our work.

You responded with care and generosity! Donations from individuals to ICS in November/December of 2015 increased by 27.5% over that same time period last year. While community need continues to outweigh our resources, we've expanded the pipeline of help and hope. As always, your donations throughout the year are crucial to continuing our work, and thank you for caring!

ICS earns highest rating from Charity Navigator for sixth year in a row

As a donor you want to be sure that the funds you invest in an organization are being used wisely. The latest rating of ICS from Charity Navigator shows that your donation is well-spent. For the sixth year in a row, ICS received the highest rating possible from Charity Navigator—four stars out of a possible four stars. This rating puts ICS in the top 3% of charities nationwide who have earned this award for six straight years. Charity Navigator evaluates charities nationwide to see how donations are used.

ICS is one of only five Pima County charities to currently hold the 4-star rating, and our score this year was the highest of any nonprofit organization in Pima County—a reflection of our commitment to the highest standards of transparency and accountability.

ICS Care Partners Program Begins Serving Patients

The Care Partners Program, a collaboration between healthcare facilities, faith communities and Interfaith Community Services, has officially launched at Banner University Medical Center (BUMC)-Tucson Campus. The program began providing non-medical support such as transportation to medical appointments, pharmacy and grocery shopping to patients without a local support system who are being released from the hospital. Volunteers from participating faith communities not only provide support for patients, they have also been trained to reinforce the patient's discharge care plan. The initial pilot project is focusing on patients with heart failure with plans to expand to other patients who are at high risk for readmission.

"The patient needs that we have encountered in the first few weeks of the program have reinforced the need for this service. It is very difficult for patients to successfully transition from the hospital to home when they do not have basic needs such as a reliable ride to medical appointments or to get their medications," said L'Don Sawyer, Project Manager.

These are some of the volunteers who have stepped forward for the ICS Care Partners pilot, on a special tour of Banner University Medical Center - Tucson Campus.

The clinical staff at BUMC who are involved in the project reaffirmed the need for this type of service. Jim Rocha, the Project Manager on the hospital side, told the story of a male patient who was in tears upon hearing that the ICS Care Partners Program could help him. "The patients who qualify for this project have complex medical conditions that are very challenging. Combine that with no or inadequate home support and their risk for unnecessary readmission increases considerably. We feel very fortunate to be participating in this pilot and are already seeing the benefit to our patients."

The ICS Care Partners Program is funded by The David and Lura Lovell Foundation.

BAG @ THON

What a response you gave in the 9th Annual Edward Jones Bag-A-Thon! It's the biggest food collection of the year for ICS, and it brings out the whole community. Besides ongoing collections at Edward Jones offices throughout the Tucson area, scouts canvassed neighborhoods and left empty bags for people to fill; schools in the area held food drives and employees of Oro Valley collected food at work. We are so grateful for your help! With a matching $8,000 grant from the Sun City Community Foundation and a generous $20,000 donation from Sun City Vistoso Cyclists, it added up to over 70,000 pounds of food donated for the ICS Food Bank!

Volunteer Update

- Do you have time Tuesday evenings to help at the ICS Food Bank from 5-7pm? This is a great opportunity for a small group of four people to give their time. One person per group needs computer skills to receive and register clients.
- Can you help deliver Mobile Meals to the Picture Rocks area? Take a morning to deliver nutritious meals on a route.
- Drive someone to the grocery store, pharmacy, or doctor's office. You can choose the day you volunteer, drive your own car and make a huge difference!

Volunteer Sig Smitt checks in with his amazing mileage log. It shows he gave more than 200 rides to people in 2015! "I'm an engineer," he says. "I like to be efficient."

Keynote Speakers:

is internationally recognized for her study on the effects of the brain's stress response on health and the science of the mind-body interaction.

A dynamic speaker, she blends academic credibility, passion for science and compassion as a physician. Dr. Sternberg is Professor of Medicine and Research Director for the Arizona Center for Integrative Medicine, University of Arizona, and is Founding Director of the UA Institute on Place and Wellbeing. She is author of The Balance Within: The Science Connecting Health and Emotions and Healing Spaces: The Science of Place and Wellbeing.

Esther Sternberg, M.D.

Dr. Anne Borik has combined her medical expertise as an Internal Medicine physician with years of fitness experience as an exercise physiologist to develop an innovative program of "Prayer in Motion." This technique is designed to strengthen the brain and body connection and has been used nationally by faith communities and medical groups. As a Catholic physician, Dr. Borik is a volunteer Eucharistic Minister at her church and was voted one of Phoenix Magazine's top Valley Doctors. She is Medical Director and Founder of the Gilbert Hospital Wellness Program and author of Prayer Prescribed: A Path to Restoring and Preserving Your Well-Being.

Anne Borik, M.D.

Whole Foods grocery shoppers helped put food on the table for hungry families coming to the ICS Food Bank. Shoppers at all three Whole Foods Markets in Tucson who took part in the FEED4MORE drive in November donated cash or food at the register. It added up to $2,458 and four pallets of non-perishable food.

Looking to the Future

Your support sent a high-achieving CDO High School student to a leadership forum in the nation's capital and gave him a chance to consider a career in cyber security, possibly working for the CIA. When 15-year-old Victor Jimenez was invited to the National Youth Leadership Forum, he wanted to go, but knew the tuition and airfare were beyond his family's limited means.

His family reached out to ICS and was able to receive some help from the Youth Enrichment Activities Program. Victor says he had a "great experience" last fall visiting the CIA, learning about national security, and seeing sights like the Lincoln Memorial and Arlington Cemetery. Victor is a good student who has been involved with Junior ROTC and plays the violin, cello, bass, and soccer. He also knows Spanish and English and is learning French.

His mom says the whole experience was "like a dream come true" for Victor, who has had a lifelong interest in spies and spy gadgets. The ICS Youth Enrichment Activities program enables dozens of children like Victor to access positive activities they would otherwise miss. Learn more at www.icstucson.org/ Youth Enrichment.

Our Thanks...to all the great folks at Christ the King Episcopal Church, who generously lease us the land for the ICS Main Office for $1 a year!

As we look back at helping a record number of people in 2015, we are grateful to have the space to serve people in crisis. Special thanks to Christ the King member and ICS ex-officio Board Member Ann Zasa in helping us be good neighbors! Ann joined the ICS Board in 2014, bringing years of management, marketing, sales and broadcasting experience. She is also a published writer, humorist, mother of three and proud grandmother of two!

A Look Back at 30 Years of ICS Service & Leadership Part III of a Series

At the end of 2015, thanks to your support, ICS completed our 30th year of service! We conclude our series looking at the past leaders of ICS with a focus on the work of Bonnie Kampa, who was hired as Executive Director in 2002 and retired December 31, 2014 after 13 highly productive years of guiding ICS.

Bonnie Kampa has filled her first year of retirement with travel, visiting family, serving as Board Chair of the Tucson Symphony Orchestra, and enjoying her hobbies of creative painting, hiking and gardening. She calls her time at ICS "the very best of my career." Bonnie's journey with ICS began as a volunteer. Her leadership of ICS started in 2002 with a two-year commitment as Executive Director for what was then Northwest Interfaith Center. When she retired 13 years later, it was from a much larger and widely known organization called Interfaith Community Services.

Bonnie in her early days at ICS.

ICS blossomed under Bonnie's leadership. The growth and change came in a physical way with a new eastside office opening, construction of a new caregiving wing, and a new ICS Food Bank and Welcome Center. The change also came as ICS matured into what Bonnie calls a "professional volunteer" organization, able to handle the growth in grant funding, an increase in staff, volunteers, faith communities, and corporate partners and still serve the community well.

Sharing a laugh at the 2014 ICS Holiday Open House.

The numbers tell the story. Five hundred volunteers in 2002 grew to more than 700 by 2014. Twenty-five partnering faith communities grew to 75 in that same time period. Bonnie says those two elements of ICS drove a lot of her time commitment. She worked to keep volunteers and faith communities feeling "confident and competent" as she took on strategic planning with an understanding that the community should be involved and the past honored.

"Bonnie truly led ICS with passion and professionalism into a season of new opportunities to bring help and hope to our community," current ICS CEO Daniel Stoltzfus noted. "We are grateful for the strong board, staff, and volunteer team Bonnie assembled that positions ICS to meet the rising needs of our community with compassion and commitment."

Looking back, Bonnie is proud to see the original vision of ICS founder Barbara Anderson stand in place – a commitment to Love, Cooperation and Service. She says she is proud of the reputation ICS has built as an organization of integrity, passion and good management. We salute your hard work, Bonnie! Thank you for your legacy of leadership at ICS.

Anxiety Lunch & Learn

Are you mindful?
Or is your mind full?
It's a question the audience got to think about at the October ICS Lunch & Learn focused on excessive anxiety and held at Fountain of Life Lutheran Church. Speaker and Counselor Dory Martin encouraged people to be aware of the present moment, and said distractions like cell phones can make everyone more anxious. She spoke of the positive effects of humor and working to let go of control, worry and unhealthy habits.

Participants leaving the event said, “I learned a lot,” “I appreciate people sharing their story,” and “I can take this back to my faith community.” The Lunch & Learn presentation was made possible with funding from The David and Lura Lovell Foundation and Community Partners, Inc.

Faith Community Engagement News

ICS welcomes our newest partner faith communities! Christ Church United Methodist, led by Rev. Mark Lansberry, Manor Baptist Church, led by Rev. Vance Wood, and Santa Clara United Methodist Church led by Rev. Agustin Jimenez, are very excited to be partnering in outreach with ICS. These congregations and their members have already been involved with ICS in various ways and look forward to continuing their participation. Here is a sampling of other ICS faith community partners in action:

- Fountain of Life Lutheran Church hosted our recent Lunch and Learn event focused on letting go of anxiety in a chaotic world. (See article on page 8.)

- Congregation Or Chadash sent 30 students to tour the ICS Offices and bag bread at the ICS Food Bank.

- Canyon del Oro Baptist Church hosted the Edward Jones Bag-A-Thon which helped raise 70,000 pounds of food for the ICS Food Bank.

Bread donations coming in to the ICS Food Bank need to be individually bagged before people can take them home. Middle Schoolers from Congregation Or Chadash pitched in to get the job done.

- Dove of Peace Lutheran Church and Unitarian Universalist Church of Tucson hosted our most recent ICS Faith Council Meetings for advocates from our faith community partners.

- 21 Faith Community Partners participated in this year's CROP Walk, where a percentage of the proceeds benefitted ICS.

- St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church held a special offering throughout December to help ICS meet our year-end goal.

We are deeply grateful for the caring of our 87 Partner Congregations! Together we're impacting many lives for the good.

To schedule a visit to ICS or to have ICS staff speak to your congregation or to explore your congregation joining ICS in the good work described in this newsletter, call our Faith Community Engagement Director, Tim Kromer, at 297-6049 ext. 201.

Interfaith Community Services was founded in 1985 by six faith communities and is proud to work with 87 partnering faith communities today.

Gifts of Warmth

Donations came from people like the crocheting and knitting club members at Our Saviour's Lutheran Church (above) who donated homemade scarves, hats and lap robes.

Volunteers took about 100 packages to people receiving Mobile Meals in December...

and spread holiday cheer along the way!

...and Love

You made the holidays happen for 200 families in the Gifts of Love Adopt a Family program. Thanks to all who came forward to shop, wrap and deliver gifts!

Wendy and Nicole Camp (above) brought in stuffed animals and 100 children's books.

V.I.P. Mortgage on Oracle hosted a Christmas party (right) to celebrate with families.
